New Lexus Design Concept to be Revealed at the Tokyo Motor Show

21 October 2015

Lexus will reveal a new concept car that captures the company's vision of progressive luxury at the Tokyo motor show on 28 October. Full details about this world debut will be made available on the day.

The concept will be among 11 Lexus vehicles on display. These will include Japan debuts for the revised GS saloon and the GS F high-performance sports saloon – the latest member of the Lexus “F” range. The new RX will also be on show, ahead of its international market launch from the end of this year – January 2016 in the UK.

People can interact with Lexus and keep up to date with its Tokyo motor show activities on Twitter using #LexusInTokyo. Further information is available at www.lexus-int-com/motorshw/2015-tokyo-motor-show.
