

New Lexus NX Sport

29 September 2016

Paris motor show press information

- Lexus NX follows CT and IS models in adopting new Sport grade
- Grade-specific design features emphasis the NX's sporting character
- NX Sport to be launched in the UK and Europe from October

Following the successful introduction of Sport models to the Lexus CT and IS ranges, the NX mid-size crossover is also set to add a Sport version to its line-up.

Available for both the NX 300h and NX 200t models, it adds exclusive exterior and interior design features. These include black 18-inch alloy wheels, black door mirror housings and black finish to the spindle grille and its frame.

In the cabin there is a choice of Sport-exclusive fabric or Tahara leather-effect upholstery in Black or Dark Rose with silver inserts.

Full details of the UK specification, pricing and availability will be announced separately.
